

Contra Costa County Sheriff's Dispatcher Typing Certificate Information

Typing certificates are available at most community college career centers in the Bay Area, as well as through many employment agencies. Appointments and/or a nominal fee may be required at some locations. A list of testing sites in the Bay Area appears below. These sites are subject to change. Call ahead to ensure location and service availability.

Your typing certificate MUST indicate that you are able to successfully able to type 35 net words per minute. This means 35 words per minute after any errors have been deducted. Failure to submit a copy of your typing certificate with your completed Contra Costa County Employment Application will cause your application to be rejected.
